

Rules and responsibilities for visitors of the event Junktown 2019

All persons on the compound of the event are obliged to respect the Operating rules of the compound (which can be seen at the entrance to the compound) and the following set of rules:

Laws

Throughout the duration of the festival, bear in mind all the laws normally applied on the territory of the Czech Republic.

Full age

The event can be attended only by persons of 18 years or older, without exceptions. No objections will be taken into regard. Persons younger than 18 will not be let into the festival area after checking ages at the entrance, and are not permitted to enter the area in any way through the duration of the festival.

Entry is forbidden with dogs and other animals, no exceptions.

Rule violation

Visitors who don't respect the rules of the event can have their identification bracelet removed and be expelled from the festival area. In case of serious violation of the rules, they can be banned from attending Junktown, other allied events and entering the compound for life. Persons breaking the laws of the Czech Republic will be reported and handed over to the Police of the Czech Republic.

Every visitor is required to report all violations. If you noticed rule violations that could be dangerous, report it to the closest organizer or to the Info stand.

Property damage

Visitors of the festival are strongly advised not to take any items of greater value into the festival area. The organizer recommends not leaving any valuable items in vehicles, baggage, tents or habitations. Always have cameras, mobile phones, wallets and other valuables at your person, in a safely closed hand luggage. The festival area can be very chaotic and the terrain uneven, so lost items are often impossible to find.

The organizer takes no responsibility for visitors' lost or damaged personal property.

Through the festival duration, the visitors are required to act in a way that won't endanger the property of others or the equipment, set pieces or decorations set in the festival area.

If you noticed any damage to your property by another visitor, we recommend taking an audio/video recording of a mutual agreement of financial or other compensation with your phone, and to write down contact information of all involved. If the damaged and the offender are unable to agree, we recommend contacting our Security and anti-conflict team through the closest organizer.

Parking civil vehicles

Because of very limited parking capacities for civil vehicles, the organizer can't guarantee sure parking spaces. If you want to be certain, look up information on ride sharing on our web page. Owners of civil cars are required to respect the instructions of the Parking service (labeled with a hangtag and a reflective vest) and park the vehicles according to their instructions. Every vehicle must be equipped with a visibly placed parking card, given to them by the Parking service.

It is expressly forbidden to park without the knowledge of the Parking service and on places that are not designated. Vehicle owners are obliged to be sparing with parking space, and always bear in mind to leave enough space on the road for a fireman truck, water cistern etc... The organizer is not responsible for damage on vehicles caused by inconsiderate parking. In the case of blocking the road passability, the organizer reserves the right to tow any vehicles.

Do not leave valuables in vehicles. It is forbidden to set up tents or any campsites next to cars, blocking access into adjacent vehicles or blocking the passability of a fireman truck or similar.

Health damage

Visitors are required to take into account the specific safety risks of the festival area and the event itself, and to be vigilant for terrain unevennesses, the movement of vehicles and programme game activity through the whole duration of the event. Visitors, who aren't participating in game activity, should approach them with appropriate respect, distance, soberness and vigilance.

Visitors are required not to endanger the safety or health of third persons through their actions.

Consideration and tolerance

Through the festival duration, we ask visitors to help others, report injuries, collapses and health complications of other participants. We also appeal for consideration to the protected landscape area in the festival compound and its surroundings, and for respect for the peace of the inhabitants of neighboring villages. Do not stay in them when unnecessary, most necessary services can be provided by our festival facilities and our volunteers. A good and considerate relationship with our neighborhood helps the continuation of the festival and future plans in the compound.

We also request that the festival visitors avoid any xenophobe, rasistic and politically presurring manifestations. Junktown is an apolitical event, and the propagation of any extremist ideologies and ideologies suppressing human rights is not welcome here, as well as propagation of real political parties and candidates. The exception to this are unreal, game and larp ideologies and organizations.

Any sort of sexual harassment or pressure is considered a serious rule violation. Anyone, who is proven to have been part of any sort of harassment, will be expelled from the event.

Hygienic conditions

The visitors take into account that hygienic conditions can be different from standard summer festivals, camps and sleeping and other establishments. Visiting the festival is not recommended to persons whose health condition requires hygienically sound environment (for example after operations).

Drinking water can be found in cisterns marked on the festival map. Drinking water will be marked by a sign (“Pitná voda” in czech). Please respect the organizer’s request to not waste drinking water.

There is also utility water from a well available, marked by a sign “Pouze užitková voda” (utility water only). This water is not drinkable, and the organizer is not responsible for eventual health consequences brought on by drinking it.

Mobile toilets are distributed in an amount adequate to the number of visitors, through the whole compound. Please notify the organizers at the Info stand about any potential malfunctions and deficiencies.

We recommend that all visitors pack antibacterial gel in their hand luggage.

Showers in the festival area are there only as an effort of the volunteers to provide better comfort to the other visitors. Their operation is not guaranteed and the organizers recommends bringing wet napkins for personal hygiene. Only throw used wet napkins into garbage bins, throwing them into nature is strictly forbidden.

All catering in the festival area is provided by volunteers, and even though we try to maintain hygienic standards in a maximal way, the conditions can differ. Consumption of food and drinks acquired in the stands and camps in the festival area is at one’s own risk.

Fire safety

The festival is held in summer, in a period of increased dryness in an environment that requires increased fire caution.

Visitors are required to act in a way to prevent formation or spreading of wildfire. That means respecting the interdiction of lighting previously unapproved fires, previously unapproved manipulation with fire, lighting any pyrotechnics unapproved in advance in the festival area or its neighborhood. Approval must be made beforehand and only using the official email contacts that can be found on junktown.eu.

In case of wildfire or suspicion of its possible foundation, immediately inform the closest organizer or the Info stand.

Smoking

Please respect the prohibition of smoking in places marked by a sign. Only throw cigarette butts in garbage bins and ashtrays placed through the festival area, never on the ground.

Garbage

It is forbidden to throw trash elsewhere than in marked garbage bins. The festival area features recycling bins and compost. If you’re unsure where to put trash, ask at the Info stand. Visitor camping grounds must show no traces of garbage at the end of the festival, carry all trash into garbage bins. Getting rid of larger garbage can be consulted with organizers or at the Info stand.

Respecting organizer’s instructions

All visitors are obliged to respect the instructions of the organizers, which will be given by spoken word (personal instruction to obey rules), written signs (for example a no entry or no smoking signs) and audio instructions by means of radio broadcast throughout the festival area (usually noticing a driver who has not parked properly).

For repeated disobedience, a visitor can have their identification bracelet removed and be expelled from the festival area. In the case of serious violation of the rules, they can be banned from attending Junktown, other allied events and entering the compound for life. Persons breaking the laws of the Czech Republic will be reported and handed over to the Police of the Czech Republic.

Visitors, who aren't sure of the meaning of organizer's instructions can ask at the Info stand or any labeled organizer.

Marking of organizers

Festival organizers are marked with a yellow hangtag and a patch on their back with the inscription Junktown Crew. The same patch, in the shape of a flag, is the mark of organizer vehicles, which have special access authorities.

In an emergency event (festival evacuation, wildfire, larger accident), the organizers will be marked with reflective vests, on top of the normal markings.

The Security and anti-conflict team will be marked with reflective arm sleeves with the inscription Junktown Crew.

Visitors are forbidden from wearing reflective vests, as these are only used to mark organizers in emergency events.

Marking of visitors

Visitors are required to visibly wear an identification bracelet on their wrist through the duration of the festival. Transferring the identification bracelets to other persons is forbidden. If, by an accident, you damage your identification bracelet to a point where it doesn't stay on your wrist, immediately inform the organizers at the entry gate, and they will issue you a new one.

Visitors, who are unable to identify themselves with an identification bracelet during the festival will be immediately removed from the festival premises.

Visitor costumes

The festival asks all visitors to respect the postapocalyptic dress code.

We strongly point out that nudity is not considered a costume and showing genitals is forbidden. (Not counting official programme events and festival zones that have been clearly announced to permit nudity).

Inspections of baggage and vehicles

Junktown is a private event and all visitors have made a commitment to respect the organizer's procedures. When suspecting rule breaking, the organizer reserves the right of a body search and an inspection of visitors' luggage, campsite and vehicle. If a visitor refuses to undergo a security inspection, he can be expelled from the festival area.

Banned and inappropriate items

It is forbidden to combine consumption of alcohol and the carrying of sharp objects, knives, larp weapons, dangerous costume accessories and other objects that could harm other visitors. Larp weapons and accessories are permitted to use only during the duration of a game and for photographic reasons. It is forbidden to bring them into clubs and cramped spaces, where they could endanger other visitors standing around, especially bringing them into dancing crowds at concerts.

Avoid bringing drones into the festival area and using them there. If you want to do it, you need to arrange it beforehand with an organizer and adhere to the laws for drone usage valid in the Czech Republic.

Do not bring active radio stations into the festival area and its surroundings, you could fundamentally disrupt and endanger the communication of our integrated rescue system and important organization channels of the festival. Do not bring your own electric generators to the event without previous communication with the organizers using the email junktown@email.cz.

Sound systems and loud speakers could needlessly disturb neighboring villages, so please avoid bringing and using them at the event. Music will be provided by the official programme of the festival.

Drugs

Consuming and distributing illegal drugs is not permitted by the organizer. We recommend consuming legal drugs carefully, illegal not at all. The organizers can't be held responsible for health damage caused by drug usage. In case of nausea caused by drugs, look for Psycare organization or our medical team.

Vehicles past the second gate

During the festival, the compound is cruised by a lot of vehicles, which have been in time registered and their drivers made familiar with the specific rules of the road patrol using the email kary.junktown@email.cz.

Unregistered vehicles are not allowed past the second checking gate.
